What will you discover?

Class one

This week we had our Good News assembly, all the children worked really hard practising for their performance. They were amazing!

CLASS 2

Today we celebrated Diwrnod Seren a Sbarc in Class 2.

We designed and made our own masks.

17.05.24

This week in Class 3, we were asked to help set up the wormery for our edible garden. We were able to learn how to make a wormey and how to look after it.

We got busy breaking up egg boxes into small pieces. Then we broke up banana peelings, carrot peelings, egg shells and lettuce into small edible sized pieces for the worms to eat.

We got to meet our worms!

We will need to check on the worms each week to make sure they have enough water and food.

We added soil into our wormey for the worms to live in.

We placed the different types of foods in each of the corners. We will be able to see which food the worms eat first.

Class Four.

We identified the types of trees around the school grounds by looking at the shape of the leaves.

We weeded our planters and sowed lettuce, edible marigolds and parsnips.

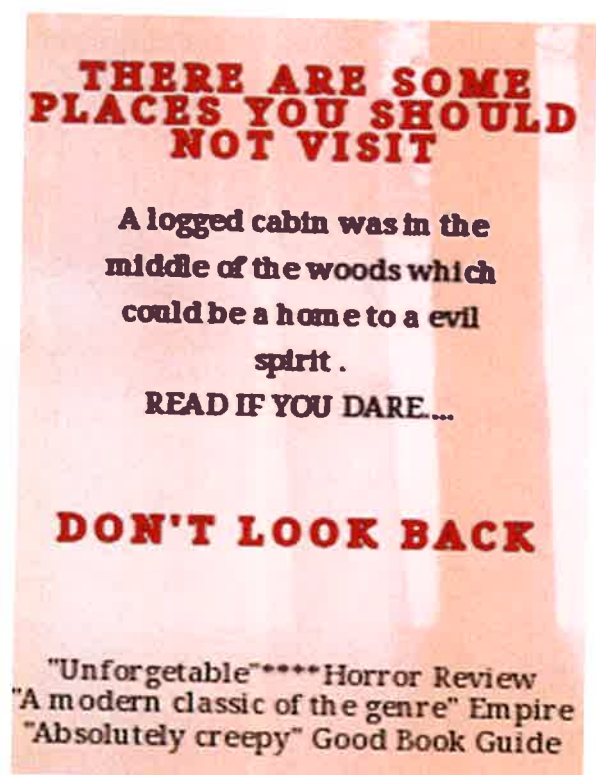

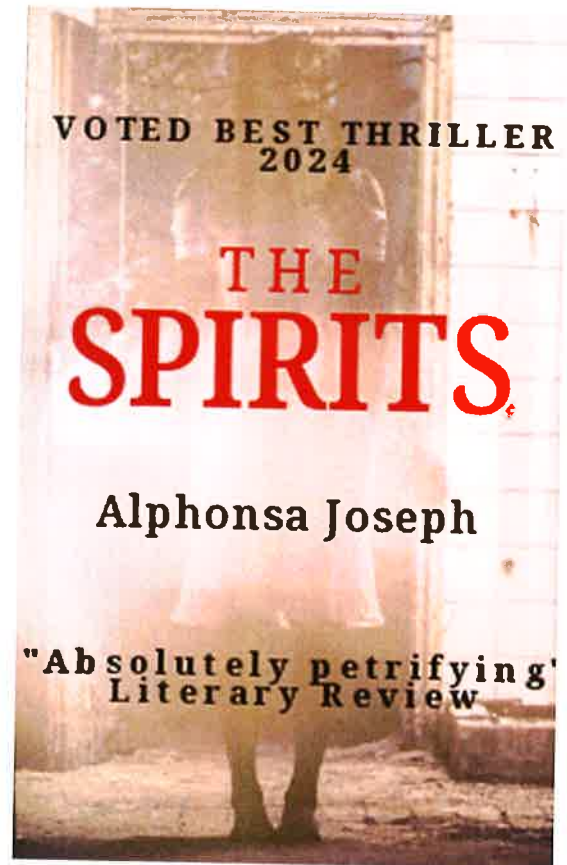

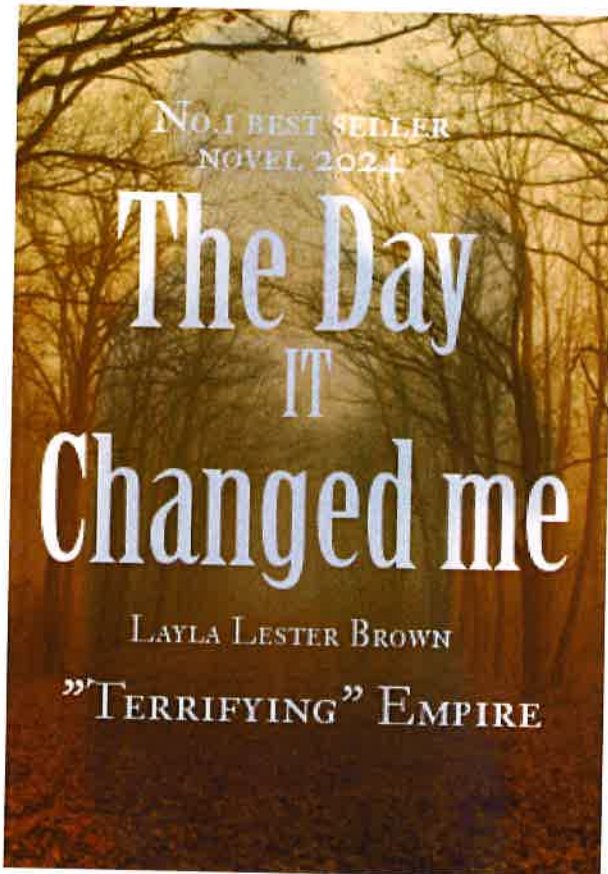

In Maths we created tally charts and graphs of the different living things found around the school.

CREATING CREEPY BOOK COVERS IN CLASS 5

Class 5 have been reading creepy / paranormal stories and learning about the key features of the genre. We made movie trailers and book covers. Here are some examples:

Class 6

This week we have been creating character profiles in preparation for our creative writing tasks where we will be creating an exciting quest. This profile was created by Sam K

What is its backstory?

Millions of years ago when the world began, life was peaceful. There was an emperor of one of the most powerful empires of the time, the empire of Erianoth. One day, the god of evil came, and he made a deal, the emperor would support him in the War of Chaos and the emperor would gain eternal life as a reward. At the war's end, evil won. The world fell into despair. As the world aged and aged, the emperor became more and more corrupted. Eventually it was just a wraith, neither living or dead and eventually its kingdom collapsed. He however still wanders in the forest his palace was once in, killing wanderers and turning them into mindless spirits under his control. He is now rebuilding his kingdom with a new name, Ungmarch. It has now also killed the God of Evil, and claimed his title for its own. His power is returning and growing. Life going forward may never be the same again.

What does it look like?

It is wearing armour that is all black, his eyes a glowing yellow. It is said if it takes off its helmet, you can see his skull as it is the only part of his body that remains. It has a cape hanging off its body, tattered and broken. Inside his skull, a blue flame keeps him alive, it is the heart of this creature. A survivor who actually survived its wrath, before perishing from a strange illness now known as 'Wraith Plague' reported this. Its belt is covered with gold. Its armour is so sharp, it can cut through bone. Its gauntlets are as powerful as a horse's kick, if it hits you hard enough you will die. Its armour is so thick it takes 10 strikes from a powerful weapon to get to the spirit itself. The leather boots are fashioned in such a way that the tops are shaped like sickles. It is so tall, it towers over the average man. It is a terrifying, ruthless, bloodthirsty creature that shows no mercy to anyone!

How does it move?

It moves like a human, but much swifter and with greater force. When in Shadow Phase, it moves super-fast, as fast as a cheetah.

S.K

What special powers does it have?

- Shadow Phase: It turns invisible and moves very quickly, like a cheetah.
- Darkening World: It makes it darker around you for a few minutes, lowering your vision so it can attack.
- Soul Flames: It generates flames but blue from the energy of captured souls, and they are so hot they can melt metal.
- Souls of the Dead: Spirits come out of the ground attacking you with swords, spears and bows, before going back into the ground.
- Raging Flail: It enchants his weapon with souls, making it very powerful and able to destroy metal with a single strike, and it makes people catch on fire.
- Blood Bending: It can, when you're weak enough, use this to draw out your blood, or it can affect one of your limbs at a time so you attack yourself or fall into or off something.
- Soul Stealer: Once it kills something or someone, it can steal its soul to either power itself or make it a mindless soul minion.

What does it sound like?

It speaks in a deep, whispery voice. Its screams are high pitch and loud, all animals run in terror or freeze when they hear it.

Weakness

Its weakness is if you manage to destroy the flame he will die and a shockwave with such force will knock you back as it fades away, but you need the blade 'Soul Slicer' for this.

Weapons

It carries a flail, which can be enchanted, it is as big as an adult man's head and upper torso.

What does it eat?

Most of the time, it will devour your soul if it is hungry but, on some occasions, it drinks your blood to replenish itself.

Where does it dwell?

It dwells in Ungmarch, the kingdom he is rebuilding for himself in the northern realms of Northern Soria. Its palace is in a dark forest, infested with spirits and undead creatures, all guarding it.

He is impossible to defeat!
